EFFORT MADE TO DESTROY ODD FELLOWS' HALL AT CASS.

No Clew to Incendiaries-Jail Delivery at Petersburg-Small Boy Kidnaped a Second Time.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SULLIVAN, Ind., Oct. 21.-An attempt to blow up the Odd Fellows' building at Cass, five miles east of here, at 5 o'clock this morning, resulted in a failure. A fire had been built at a point where a ventilator made an opening through the brick wall. Just within this aperture in and gasoline. When the fire was discovered the baseboard within six inches of the barrels was on fire and had the discovery been delayed ten minutes the building would have been blown up.

The Odd Fellows' building is the most pretentious structure in Cass and the lodge hall, which occupies the second floor, is one of the finest in southern Indiana. While there is no clew to the incendiaries, it is believed that they are men whom the lodge has blackballed and they have taken this method of getting even.

HEATING PLANTS INSPECTED. Governor Durbin at Purdue and the State Soldiers' Home.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 21.-Governor W T. Durbin, accompanied by his son, Maj. Fletcher M. Durbin, and Capt. Samuel S. Schutt, chief engineer of the Statehouse, spent the day here inspecting the Purdue University and Soldiers' Home heating plant now in the process of installation. The Governor and his party arrived last night and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Marshall at dinner. Mr. Marshall was speaker of the last House of South Dakota-Fair on Thursday and Representatives of the State Legislature and is a warm personal friend of the Governor. To-day, with Mr. Marshall, the Gov- room having closed their place to-day. Severnor, his son and Captain Schutt visited Purdue University. The Governor expressed himself as well pleased with the new heating station, saying it was one of the best in the State. President Stone had a brief talk with Governor Durbin, after which the executive and his party boarded a special car for the Soldiers' Home. Col. Samuel T. Murdock accompanied the party to the home, where Governor Durbin and Engineer Schutt' called on Commandant Smock. The visitors then inspected the eating plant and found the work progressing satisfactorily. This noon the Governor and his party were entertained at luncheon at the Lafayette Club as guests of Col. that of the Salem Preacher. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SALEM, Ind., Oct. 21.-Much interest is of Rev. G. V. Dickey, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, mention of whose disappearance was made in the Journal's Detroit dispatch this morning. Mr. Dickey was given a vacation by his church in August last and went to Petoskey, Mich, as he was suffering with asthma. He was next heard of at Detroit, sick with fever. Later letters were received saying he would be at home soon. That was two weeks ago. Report had it that he left his hotel in Detroit a week ago Saturday, leaving his baggage and no word as to his return, and he has not since been heard from. A body was found in the river and supposed to be his. The Rev. G. Y. Allen, of Salem, was in Detroit this week and was asked to identify a body by description, as the body found had been buried. Mr. Allen thinks t was not that of Mr. Dickey.

On one occasion the colors of one of the lower classes were painted on the steps and windows of the high school building. The officials have striven in vain to discover the offenders. This afternoon about 3 o'clock Marshal Harvey appeared at the building armed with sufficient authority and placed under arrest thirteen of the boys who are supposed to have had a hand in defacing the school property and marched them down to the mayor's office, where an investigation of a private nature Camden Once More Is Dry. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CAMDEN, Ind., Oct. 21.-Camden is once more a dry town, the owners of the cluberal weeks ago the saloons were knocked out by a blanket remonstrance, and then a social club was organized by William Bones and Joseph Hamerling, both of Delphi. The citizens of the town had nothing to say of the club so long as it was conducted according to law, but it soon developed into a wide-open house and the prosecutor was asked to investigate. A court of inquiry was held and evidence that caused indictments was secured. A committee composed of fifteen citizens then informed the proprietors if they would close the club and leave town the prosecutions would not be pushed against them. This they agreed to do and immediately locked their doors. It is said that the two applicants who have advertised to apply for license next month will withdraw their applications.

Child Rewarded for Heroism.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., Oct. 21 .- A few days ago Maida Royse, a six-year-old girl, saved the life of the little son of Orange Akers, of this city, aged five. The boy was standing on the platform of a well, in which there shown in Salem in the continued absence | were fifteen feet of water. The board broke and the little fellow was plunging down to certain death when the little girl grasped him by the arm and held him until her screams brought the child's mother, who pulled him out. To-day Mr. Akers presented to the little heroine a gold chain and locket as a reward for her thoughtfulness and courage.

Members Addressed by Superintendent Kendall and Capt. Cheatham.

At the meeting of the Manufacturers' Club, held at the Commercial Club last tended. They came from all parts of the night, a report was heard from the committee on insurance, recommending that something be done to encourage the organi-State and that an effort be made to get more foreign companies to operate in Indiana. It is the theory of the committee that with more companies operating in the State insurance rates would not be so high. Besides, it is stated there are not a sufficient number of companies to take the

RESIGNATION OF THE MINISTRY IS SUBMITTED TO THE KING.

Action Follows Premier Zanardelli's Retirement on Account of Failing Health-Cable News.

ROME, Oct. 21.-The Cabinet has resigned. The decision to take this step was reached unanimously at a ministerial council held to-day, and after Premier Zanardelli had announced that he had sent in his resignation in consequence of failing health. The resignation of the premier was tendered to King Victor Emmanuel to-day and it is no way connected with the political situation. This was clearly set forth at the ministerial council. Signor Zanardelli's health is daily becoming worse. Others of the Cabinet essayed in vain to dissuade the premier from resigning, but his decision so to do was supported by Signor Bacello, minister of agriculture, who is a famous arch Is the Highest.

German Court Says an Oath to a Mon-

BERLIN, Oct. 21.-The assassination of the King and Queen of Servia has indirectly come up before the Berlin courts. In a recently published article Colonel Gaedke, military editor of the Berliner Tageblatt, asserted that the Servian officers concerned in the murder of King Alexander had ser-iously failed in their duty toward their King. of them would just about have covered it." iously failed in their duty toward their King. the commander-in-chief of the army, but at the same time there existed a higher duty of every citizen to the state, which even the oath to the monarch could not dissolve. These words were taken up by the Kreuz Zeitung, and in the controversy which followed Dr. Kropatschek, editor of this paper, said an officer like Colonel Gaedke was unworthy of belonging to the officers' corps while helding such views. Because of this statement Colonel Gaedke entered suit against Dr. Kropatschek, and now the court has rendered a decision in favor of the defendant on the ground that Colonel Gaedke's article made a comparison of the conditions existing at the German and the Servian

The court said: "If it is said that an officer's oath to his monarch is not above that to his country such a condition would lead to serious consequences, and the same right should then be accorded to a sergeant and common soldier. After two months' treatment by applica tion of the X-rays, Miss Elsie Winkler, sixteen years old, has been relieved of semidaily attacks of epilepsy, and her complete recovery seems almost certain. Miss Wink-

Isane Reingold, "Poet of the Ghetto" and Tailor.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.-Isaac Reingold, whose verses and songs depicting the sufferings of the Jewish race in Russia won for him the title "The Poet of the Ghetto," died to-day at his home in this city. Reingold was born in Russia thirty years ago and came to this country at the age of fifteen years. During the past thirteen years he had lived in Chicago and worked as a tailor in the Ghetto. In his spare hours he composed songs and poetry, which won recognition and were published in Yiddish in book form. Several of his poems have been set to music by G. Menhelsohn, the New York Jewish musical composer, and have had a wide circulation among the Jews of this country.

He spoke to a large audience at Tnyemouth to- favored government aid in highway improvement. He said: "An effort is now being made by some of the most influential men in public life to devise some financial scheme by which the treasury surplus now taken from circulation under the Dingley tariff may be put back into circulation. The scheme is to loan this money to national banks without interest. I am opposed to this, and feel it would be far better for the federal government to appropriate $100,000 -000 of this surplus per annum for five years proposed last spring of $57,000,000 for gas, for the purpose of building good roads. This $500,000,000, supplemented by an additional $500,000,000 from the people, would, in my judgment, meet all demands necessary to improve the roads throughout the Uuion."

A LIVE MAMMOTH. Reports of One Walking the Far North.

New York Herald Special. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Saturday.-Dr. . P. Frizell, who has arrived here from the North, says in an interview "I don't wish to make myself ridiculous to the scientific world by stating as a fact that at least one living specimen of the mammoth family is still roaming at large on the American side of the Arctic regions. However, I saw with my own eyes comparatively fresh tracks that apparently could not have been made by any other animal but a mammoth. I ran across the animal's tracks in the Island of Unimak, which is 125 miles around and twenty-five miles in width. It is about four miles from the mainland, and animals can walk back

'The tracks could be distinctly seen in the ice and snow, and I followed them for quite a distance," the doctor added. "They sank four inches deep into the frozen ground and were four feet apart, showing that distance to be the stride of the animal. The size of the tracks were ninteen by twenty inches. In each track were the distinct impression of eighteen toes. I ran across these anima tracks in the country between Mount Pompromni and Mount Scheschaid. Birds and Insects.

New York Post.

There is hardly a single group of insects which does not suffer from the appetite of one or more species of bird. The eggs and arvae are dug and pried out of their burrows in the wood by woodpeckers and creepers; those underground are scratched and clawed up to view by quail, partridges and many sparrows; warblers and vireos scan every leaf and twig. Flycatchers, like the cat family of mammals, lie in wait and surprise the insects on the wing, more particularly those flying near the ground, while swifts, swallows and martins glean a harvest from the host of high-flying insects. When we think humming birds are taking dainty sips of honey from the flowers they are in reality more often snatching minute piders and flies from the deep cups of the calvxes. When night falls the insects, which have chosen that time as the safer to carry on the business of active life, are pounced on by crepuscular feathered beings; the cavernous mouths of whip-poor-wills engulf them as they rise from their hiding places, and the bristles of nighthawks brush them into no less rapacious maws if, perchance, they have succeeded in reaching the upper
